

Academic Writing Workshop

Time: 9 AM – 6 PM, Jan 6 – 10, 2020

Venue: TIGP Office Building Room 204

Eligibility:

PhD students and post-doc researchers sponsored by any PI in IES (20 pax)

Your research matters to you. Does it matter equally to your readers? Help them understand it by communicating your findings clearly and in more engaging ways. Learn to meet the reader's basic expectations of a text's purpose, of where information should appear, and how fine-tuning your message can increase the impact of your writing.

Pavel Adamek has been teaching academic writing at the Earth Observatory of Singapore, Nanyang Technological University, for 7 years. His applied linguistics background and a wealth of consultation experience in writing for publication equip him with the best knowledge to convey academic writing principles efficiently. We highly recommend that IES PIs encourage their students and post-docs to fully participate in this workshop.

For student and post-doc registration, please contact your PI.

List of accepted attendants will be announced by November 30, 2019.
